The Secretary of War, to whom was referred the Petition of William Frost respectfully reports.

That William Frost states that he entered the army as an Ensign at the commencement of Hostilities with Great Britain, that on the first day of January 1776. he was promoted to a Lieutenancy and on the organization of the army in 1777 he held the same rank in which Powers [illegible] that upon the arrangement of the Army in 1779. he retired from the service as a supernumerary, that after this period he held several posts in the civil staff of the army, & in the Contractors department to the end of the war

He further states that in consideration of his services he may be allowed the commutation of a Lieutenant as tho' he had served in the line of the army to the end of the war.

The Petitioner having been deranged prior to the acts of Congress stimulating the half pay [illegible] not entitled to the benefits of the said Acts.

War department, 27 Feb.y 1793

a Committee's Report on my Petition to Congress as it is said, if so the very fact of it discovers a very partial & influenced disposition in design against those

Petitions and proofs for commutation of pay Relief for the several officers stated to be in the Q. Line campaign in 1776 to end of Campaign 1778 to be examined in Conformity to Report the establishment of the Continental Army and the Rules appointed by Col. Pickering's general orders to commence Feb. 1779 and then were discharged as supernumerary, and received one years pay and depreciation pay, after which he served as Lieut. in the Regiment at West Point till 14th July 1779 and then was commissioned as Captain to General Patterson's Brigade 17th January 1781 and from that time to the end of the war he served the Contractors Mast. Stores &c. in the forage department.

The petitioner of the above state is referred to the Committee on Claims from indisputable documents.
They find that the petitioner received under the resolution of 26th November 1778 one years pay on the 23d March 1783 the commutation act passed, under the 26th January and 11th February 1784 the act was explained. This petitioner can have no claim of claim under any existing provision of government.

The Committee are of opinion that petition ought not to be granted
